BRING YOUR CLASSROOM TO LIFE
This can be your best year with DECA

Imagine an instructional program that enriches your classroom, ties into career pathways, extends learning, motivates your students and provides you with the tools to promote your program and profession. That’s DECA.

This year, DECA builds on a great program by introducing new opportunities while enhancing the flagship activities for which DECA is well known. Some of the highlights include new social media challenges, competitive events that tie to your curriculum, webcasts connecting your students to the DECA world, increased partnerships with colleges and businesses and new DECA transcripts that provide evidence of your students’ success and preparation for careers and college.

All of these tools, as well as DECA’s enhanced focus and message, provide excellent leverage for you to promote your program to the stakeholders that matter most. More than that, DECA has more opportunities than ever to engage, motivate and recognize your students to make teaching and learning more meaningful and fun.

I challenge you to take DECA to the next level in your classroom, and I guarantee your students will appreciate all you do.
